Community pharmacists and their teams are a vital healthcare provider during the outbreak they remain on the front line of public health by serving as direct points of access for their patients. In global lock down there seems to be an even greater dependence on pharmacists as the first point of contact to fulfill the public's healthcare needs. Pharmacies around the world are one of the few places that are kept open for public service even during the strict lock downs.

Hence NSS Cell of Yashwantrao Bhonsle College of Pharmacy, Sawantwadi, Maharashtra, had organised an awareness program for community pharmacists, who were on the front-line of health service against COVID-19 in pandemic situation. A quiz was conducted, on guidelines given by FIP for community pharmacist through google form with the following link and the link was shared through social media.

More than 225 candidates had participated in the program. Almost 90% of the pharmacist had participated in the awareness program including diploma, degree, postgraduate and Ph.D. students and professionals. An e-certificate was sent on their respective registered mail ID for those who score 50% and above, certified by honourable Dr. V. A. Jagtap, Principal of YBCP and Mrs. Ovi O. Paradkar NSS coordinator. Through this awareness program participants understood how to take care of themselves and of others with all precautions and guidelines given by WHO and FIP in the COVID-19 pandemic situation.
