Introduction –

The National Vaccination Day, is celebrated every year on March 16 to convey the importance of vaccination to the entire nation. The day was first observed in the year 1995, the year on which India started Pulse Polio Programme. This year, the National Vaccination Day is important as the country has started its biggest Covid-19 immunization programme.

India observes National Vaccination Day to convey to the people of the country the importance of vaccination. For over a hundred and fifty years, vaccines have saved people from diseases that would have hampered progress of humanity. Amid the Covid-19 pandemic, vaccines have brought the world together in a way that we have never seen before. India has emerged a leader in the vaccination drive against the Covid-19 pandemic.

According to the World Health Organization (WHO), "Vaccines contain weakened or inactive parts of a particular organism (antigen) that triggers an immune response within the body." When a person receives the vaccine shot, he or she is "very likely to be protected against the targeted disease". But the WHO says, "not everyone can be vaccinated" as they may have "underlying health conditions that weaken their immune systems".

Objectives:-

1. To raise awareness regarding vaccination amongst the people.
2. To encourage the people to be responsible citizens taking responsibility of their own health.
3. To facilitate maximum enrolment in vaccination drive, especially for the geriatric group
