Objectives of the Program:

- To educate students on the importance of blood and eye donation.
- To create awareness about donor rights and responsibilities.
- To encourage students to participate in voluntary donation programs.
- To dispel myths and misconceptions related to organ and blood donation.

About the program

The NSS units of Yashwantrao Bhonsale College of Pharmacy and Yashwantrao Bhonsale College of D. Pharmacy, Sawantwadi, jointly organized a "Blood Donation & Eye Donation Awareness Program" on Tuesday, 25th March 2025, at 3:00 PM in the YBCP Seminar Hall. The event aimed to spread awareness about the importance of blood and eye donation, educate students on their significance, and encourage voluntary participation in these noble causes.

Guest Speakers and Dignitaries:

The session was graced by distinguished speakers who shared their expertise and valuable insights:

- Dr. Shubhajit N. Dhuri, Ophthalmologist, Sub-District Hospital, Sawantwadi.
- Mr. Sunil R. Sonsurkar, ICTC Counselor.

Program Highlights:

The awareness session commenced with a welcome address, followed by the expert talks by the guest speakers.

1. Discussion on Blood Donation (By Mr. Sunil R. Sonsurkar)
 - Explained the significance of blood donation in saving lives.
 - Highlighted eligibility criteria and the donation process.
 - Addressed common myths and misconceptions about blood donation.
 - Discussed the health benefits of regular blood donation.
2. Eye Donation Awareness (By Dr. Shubhajit N. Dhuri)
 - Explained the process of eye donation and corneal transplantation.
 - Emphasized the need for more eye donors to help restore vision.
 - Educated students on who can donate and how the donation process works.
 - Encouraged students to pledge for eye donation and spread awareness.

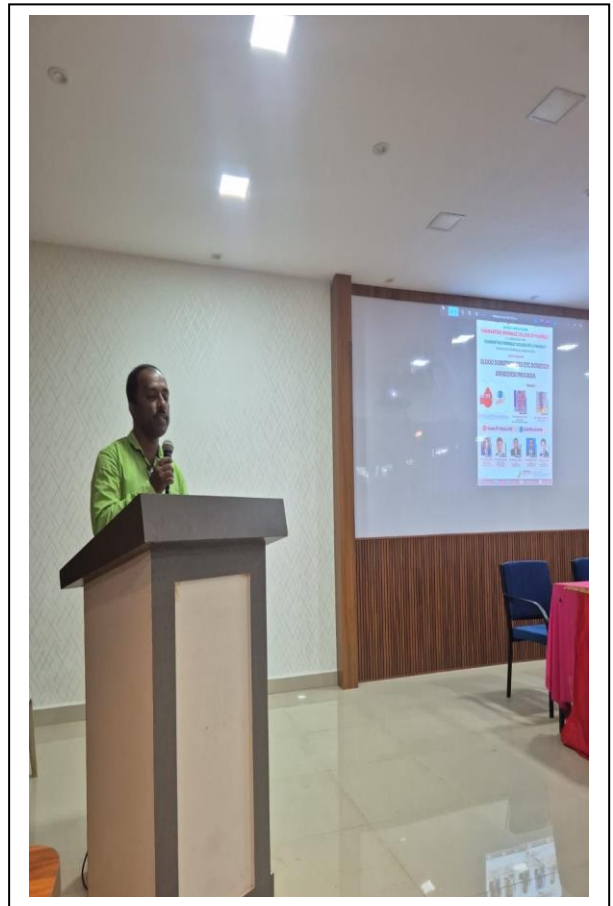

The session was highly interactive, with students actively engaging in discussions, asking insightful questions, and clearing doubts related to blood and organ donation.

The program was skillfully anchored by Mr. Sanchit Joshi and Ms. Simran Korgaonkar, both First-Year B. Pharmacy students, who ensured a smooth flow of events. The seamless execution of the program was made possible by the dedicated efforts of the event coordinators, Mr. Jatin A. Tekawade, Mrs. Ankita A. Nevgi, and Mr. Vinod R. Biradar, whose meticulous planning and coordination contributed to the success of the event.

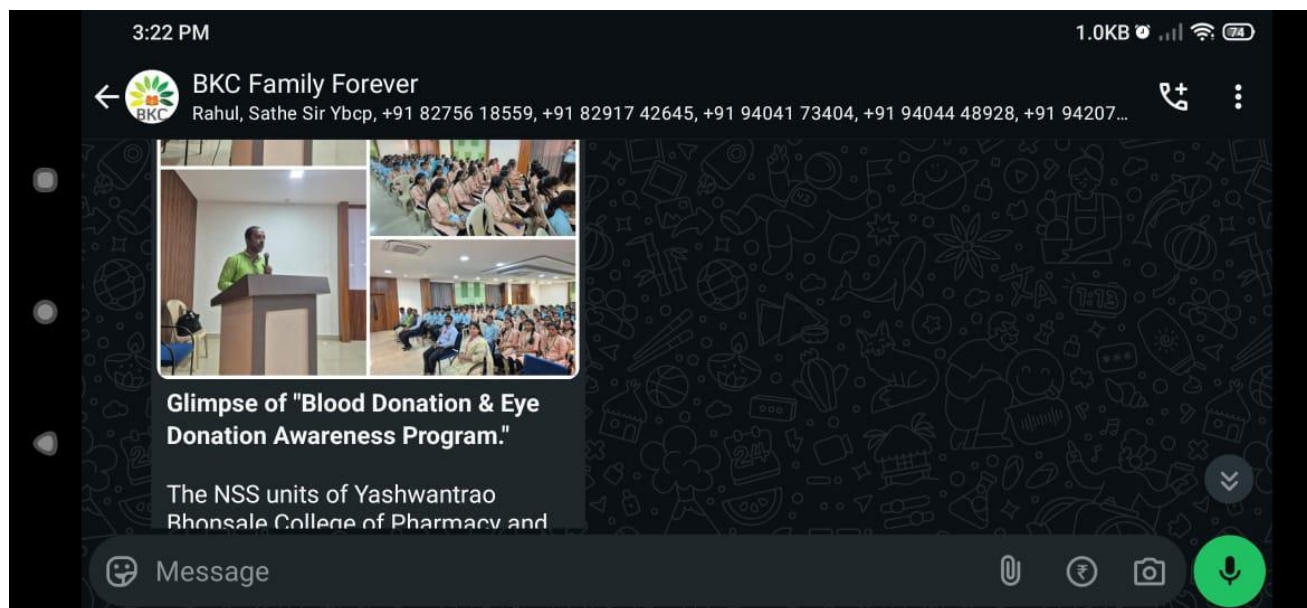

The session concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks, where the guest speakers, faculty members, and students were acknowledged for their enthusiastic participation. The NSS unit reaffirmed its commitment to continuing such awareness initiatives in the future to educate and inspire students about social responsibilities. We extend our sincere gratitude to Ms. Sneha J. Sawant, HOD, YBCP (Integrated D. Pharm), Mr. Satyajit P. Sathe, Principal, YBDP, and Dr. Vijay A. Jagtap, Principal, YBCP, for their unwavering support and encouragement. Their guidance played a pivotal role in making this event meaningful and impactful
